Higher Quality Noted In Exhibits At Fair Here

More Than 1,400
Items Displayed;
Parade Is Friday

More than 1,400 exhibits were entered and placed on display here Wednesday as the Morgan County Fair got under way. The fair will continue through Saturday.

All exhibits except livestock were judged Wednesday night and are displayed in the high school gymnasium where they may be viewed until 1:30 Friday afternoon.

Livestock will be entered Friday. Cash prizes of more than $1,000 are offered by the fair committee this year for prize-winning exhibits. A total of $125 alone is offered in prizes in the purebred Hereford division.

Band To Lead Parade

As in the past, Friday will be the big day at the fair, headlined by the county school parade led by the Morehead College band and Morgan county's new Bookmobile. There will be an added feature this year—Nancy Turner Day, honoring Mrs. Nancy Turner for her record of 47 years of continuous service as a teacher.

More than 3,000 school children followed by floats will comprise the parade starting at the school at 10 a.m. Mrs. Turner and a group of former pupils comprising three generations will be on one float. Various school floats will follow, and then the pupils.

After parading through the business section of town, the parade will return to the athletic field where the program honoring Mrs. Turner will be staged. There will be scholastic, singing and athletic contests for Competing schools.

Exhibits show much improvement over previous years, thanks to a good crop year.

The 4-H club exhibits were larger in numbers than formerly and indicated the fine work being done by 4-H club members in the county. There were many dresses and these were equal to those on display in stores, indicating that such things can be made by our girls and equal to factory made clothing.

A new and interesting section was the woodworking department which exhibited items of chairs, desks, tables, etc.

The department of field crops and gardens shows very fine quality of products and excellent arrangement. Corn, potatoes and tobacco were perhaps better than former years, resulting from the good crop season in this county. Several gardens indicated a wide variety of vegetables that can be grown in the county.

One excellent display is in the flower department. The flower show is beautiful and includes many varieties. This exhibit is sponsored by the West Liberty Garden Club.

The department of poultry was perhaps better than in previous years and included rabbits, turkeys, ducks, geese, chickens and eggs.

Within the last few years there has been a large increase in the number and quality of birds exhibited.

Number of school exhibits such as maps, poems, drawings, handwriting, etc. is better and nicer. Many school units are very good, though fewer in number. This doubtless is a result of consolidation which has reduced the number of schools.

Many items of cooking such as bread, cakes, candy, etc. were exhibited and arranged in cases. It is evident that the art of cooking is improving with the teaching of home economics in our high school and projects of 4-H club girls.

The Singer Sewing Machine Company has a nice display of new and all-purpose machines, one with the amazing slant needle and latest design in cabinet for home and school.

MRS. VEEP LIKES MORGAN

Mrs. Alben W. Barkley, visiting West Liberty for the first time Tuesday when her famous husband addressed a Democratic rally here, was thrilled both by the large crowd and their enthusiastic welcome to the Veep and by the town and its people. "This is such a nice little town and the people are so friendly," she said. "And I'm certainly coming back—I really mean it."

The Veep and Mrs. Veep arrived at 4:30, Mrs. Veep driving. They went immediately to the Cole Hotel where Barkley has been a regular guest for years. (He said he first came to Morgan county in 1923 when he ran for Governor.) After a brief rest at the hotel, they were the guests of friends for dinner at Elam's just before the speaking.

PUBLISHER IS CLUB SPEAKER

Albert Moore, publisher of the Salsersville Independent and a former district governor of Kiwanis International, was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the West Liberty Kiwanis club in Stamper's Restaurant Wednesday evening. He addressed the club on the subject, "A Newspaper's Role in Community Life," as an observance of Newspaper Week. He was introduced by B. E. Whitt of The Courier staff.

Contrary to the general view that a country newspaper is an institution that owes an obligation to the community, Mr. Moore said that this is true only to a limited extent. A newspaper, he said, is primarily a business enterprise that has two items for sale—advertising space and subscriptions. But, he added, newspapers must command reader interest to hold subscribers and thus give value received to merchants to advertise.

A country editor's job, he said, is much more difficult than daily newspaper work. A county publisher must be six men in one—editor, reporter, advertising solicitor, business manager and at times printer.

Mr. Moore was on the staffs of Ashland and Charleston dailies before becoming publisher of the Salsersville Independent.

Guests at the meeting included Prehard King and Mrs. Arnett, extension workers from Magoffin county; Ellis Boggs and Clay Joseph, extension workers from Floyd county; Mrs. Carl Sinclair, home demonstration agent of Rowan county; and Mrs. Roy Nickell, home economics teacher, who was here to judge exhibits at the fair.

MT. STERLING GOOD WILL TOUR VISITS W. LIBERTY, EZEL

Traveling in 20 cars, Mt. Sterling business and professional men and its high school band visited Ezel and West Liberty Thursday on a good will tour that took them into the surrounding counties of Menifee, Morgan, Wolfe and Powell.

The tour was sponsored by the Mt. Sterling Chamber of Commerce and its Tobacco Warehousemen's Association.

The good will tourists visited Frenchburg before coming to Ezel and West Liberty. They stopped in West Liberty and mingled with business men and farmers and remained for lunch. Later they went to the high school gym to view exhibits at the Morgan County Fair.

From West Liberty the crowd of good will tourists went to Hazel Green, Stanton and Lee City. Purpose of the tour was to advertise Mt. Sterling's growing tobacco market and to extend a hearty invitation to everyone in the four counties to visit Mt. Sterling.

State Senator Jack Reynolds and Mt. Sterling's Mayor R. L. Bernard headed the tour. The tour's lead bore huge signs reading, "Sell Your Tobacco to Mt. Sterling for the High Dollar," and contained a white oak tobacco hoghead. The band was mounted on a truck of the Howell-Bryant Hardware, played several numbers on Main street before going to the high school and the fair.

Among business men composing the tour were: Senator Reynolds, Mayor Bernard, Albert Clay, Atty. Caswell P. Lane, David Clark, Frank Collins, Arthur Hedges, Charles White, John S. Vies, John T. Petro, Charles Fuller, Herbert Blevins, David Howell, James Nesbitt, W. K. Prewitt, Harmon Little, John T. Murphy, R. W. Prewitt and others.

At Ezel the tourists visited with business men and then went to the Ezel high school where the band played several numbers and the students welcomed the Mt. Sterling delegation with cheers.

Elk Fork Bridge Work Completed

The new bridge over Elk Fork at the mouth of Cow Branch is now flooded and nearly completed with the approaches set to be finished in about two weeks.

The bulldozer is building the road up Cow Branch to intersect with the War Creek road. When completed this will open up a large stream and section which have been somewhat isolated and will enable residents of the area to get out over a good road. The bridge is a very large one and good and will bear heavy traffic, including heavy machinery.

Parent Arraigned For Failing To Send His Children To School

Bronson Barker of Index was charged in county court Monday with failure to send his three children to school. County Judge Halsey said that the case was continued on condition that he start his children in school at once and keep them in. Barker agreed to do this and his children are now in school.

Judge Halsey said that failure to send his children to school would reinstate the case and that the fine would be ten dollars for each child and $5 fine for each day and the additional court cost.

Under new regulations of the State Department of Education, funds are sent to the county not on basis of census pupils but on attendance, and state and county officials are strictly enforcing the law. School officials report that attendance this year is almost perfect. They added that some few parents who in the past have failed to send regularly to school will be expected to keep their children in school all the time.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION HELD

Seventyfive people gathered at the Malone church Saturday, Oct. 2 for the Morgan county Sunday School convention. Rev. John Heykoop had charge of the opening devotion. He had as his central idea the theme, "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." Rev. Ray Boggs was at the piano and Mrs. Boggs led the singing. Rev. E. R. Hemphill, association president, gave the reasons for not holding a convention in 1953.

John S. Chambers, executive secretary of the Kentucky Council of Churches, spoke on the subject, "Kentucky's Program of Christian Education." The program was outlined as follows: 1. To cooperate in the promotion of special emphasis in the church school calendar; 2. to promote the Bible emphasis program as sponsored by the National Council of Churches under the title "The Use and Understanding of the Bible"; 3. to promote a vigorous program of county Sunday School conventions; 4. to develop our Kentucky County Workers' League into a more usable source of helpfulness to our Kentucky church workers; and 5. to promote an adequate program of leadership education throughout Kentucky.

The roll call showed that 31 Sunday schools are operating in Morgan county.

Carl Stewart, county superintendent of schools, made an appeal for the cooperation of the citizens with these schools. The appeal was made as Mr. Stewart welcomed the people of the convention to Malone.

DROUTH COVER CROPS OKEYED

Seedlings of winter cover crops on drouth damaged land has been approved as an additional practice to the 1954 Agricultural Conservation Program, according to Jas. R. Rash, Jr., chairman of the Kentucky State ASC Committee.

This practice has been approved for all counties in the State. Farmers may receive cost-sharing assistance for fall seedlings of small grains or mixtures of grain and vetch on land where the protective cover was severely damaged by drouth. Pasturing is permitted according to Mr. Rash, but the removal of a grain or seed crop is not permitted by restrictions in the practice authorization.

County agricultural officials, including the county ASC committee, County Agent, and local SCS supervisors are authorized to determine practice specifications in keeping with local conditions in any county where the practice is included in the county program. Cost-sharing is permitted for the needed application of liming materials and fertilizers as well as seed.

County committees are now summarizing reports received to date of ACP practices performed during the spring and summer months. Although no additional funds have been made available for assisting farmers in carrying out this practice, Mr. Rash stated that remaining program funds will be used to the fullest extent necessary in encouraging seeding of protective winter cover.

LICENSES REVOKED

Sheriff Aaron Lykins states that four drivers licenses were revoked in county court Monday for drunken driving. Those whose licenses are revoked are forbidden to drive a motor vehicle for six months.

Sheriff Lykins, his deputies, Police Jeff Williams and State Patrolmen arrested 17 over the week end for drunkenness and drunk driving.

MORGAN COUNTY NIPS MT STERLING 24 TO 0 FRIDAY

Recovered from numerous injuries and playing a better brand of football, the Morgan County high school Blue Devils trounced the Mt. Sterling Trojans 24 to 0 here last Friday night. It was their second win in four games.

Coach Stanley's Morgan countians scored in every quarter and held the visitors to 9 first downs while chalking up 13.

Larry McKenzie scored two Morgan touchdowns on runs of 30 and 50 yards, and Cleles Lykins and Richie Stacy scored one each.

The Blue Devils exhibited a renewed spirit and some smoothly-executed plays in downing the Mt. Sterling team. L. D. Hutchinson, playing his first time since being injured in the opening game at Louisa, added strength to Morgan's light line. Injuries that had hampered good teamwork since the Prestonsburg game were less noticeable Friday and the Morgan lads showed more spirit.

McKenzie's long touchdown runs came in the second and third quarters on the same type play. When the Trojans and spectators finally found the ball carrier on this deceptive play, McKenzie was already through the line into the secondary defense. Then he outran the opponent's safety to the goal. His first touchdown was a run of 30 yards and the second a run of 50. The play was so neatly executed that it fooled the Trojans twice in successive quarters.

Mt. Sterling received the opening kick-off on their 30 yard line, but Morgan county stopped their offense and Quarterback Ed Ritter was forced to punt on the fourth down. Starting from their own 45, Lykins and McKenzie

Couple Who Fled Russia When Communists Took Over To Speak

Woman's Club Fall Banquet Is Set Here Next Thursday Night

A Russian couple who fled their country when the Communists took over and who were proverbial rolling stones until they made their way to freedom in America and a place they could call home in the Kentucky hills will be the speakers at the opening fall banquet of the Morgan County Women's Club here Thursday evening, October 14, according to the club president, Mrs. Crystal Howard. The banquet will take place at 6:30 p.m. in the dining room of the West Liberty Methodist church and will be served by the ladies of the G. C. Banks Circle of the Christian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Arkady Weber, now members of Pikeville Junior College faculty, "have come home at last." High on the hillside campus in Pike county, the Webers enjoy a new life in a quaint log home, a life such as is unheard of in the land of the Volga.

Mr. Weber's mother was a countess, and her mother was a governess in the palace of the Grand Duke Constantine, cousin of Tsar Nicholas II. The Webers lived through the bloody uprising of Russia in 1917, and since then have traveled in many places.

According to the couple, they

Two Morgan Students Receive Scholarships At Morehead College

MOREHEAD, Ky., Oct. 1—Two Morgan county students have been awarded academic scholarships to Morehead State College this semester. It was announced by Dean of Students Roger Wilson. They are Mary Marcene Ward, daughter of W. C. Ward of Ezel, and Ollie Marie Nickell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Drexel Nickell of West Liberty.

Miss Ward, a freshman elementary major, graduated this year from Ezel high school. Miss Nickell is also a freshman and is a 1954 graduate of Morgan county high school.

Their scholarships, valued at $50 a semester, are two of the 44 general scholarships granted by the college.

BOOKMOBILE IS GREETED AT ALL STOPS

The Morgan County Bookmobile in charge of Miriam B. Stewart is making its daily rounds to the various schools of the county and many commendations are coming in to the County Superintendent's office indicating that this type of library service is being highly appreciated by the reading public.

It has been said, "If you want children to read, see that they have access to books." For some time Morgan county has not been financially able to purchase sufficient library books to provide reading material for the children of the various schools in the county. Today, however, the Bookmobile which was made possible by the E. O. Robinson fund and which was presented to Carl Stewart for Morgan county, is taking excellent care of the reading needs of both children and adults of the entire county. This bookmobile service was an outgrowth of the idea that "if people could not go to books, books should go to them."

One little boy recently mailed the following letter to Supt. Stewart. This letter is typical of the attitude most of the school children of the county are manifesting toward the bookmobile service:

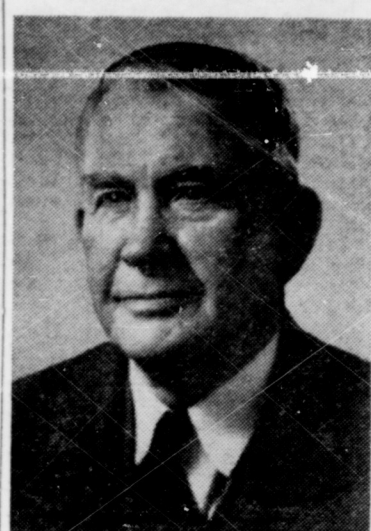

Matthew, Kentucky
September 20, 1954
Dear Mr. Stewart:
We are so glad the Bookmobile has come to our county. We do hope that the other schools it visits will enjoy it as we do. We didn't have recess today because we chose to read rather than play. Everyone of us likes to read the books and we are keeping our teacher, Mrs. Anos Conley, busy helping us out on the most difficult words.

I have read seven of the Bookmobile books. I especially liked "Snipp, Snapp, Snurr and the Magic Horse." It is a story about three little boys who were busy playing when their mother called them into the hall. It was their birthday. For their birthday she gave them a rocking horse with which they had lots of fun.

We are making a file containing an envelope for each child to keep a record of the books he has read.

Bangs Disease High Among Cattle Tested

One animal in 20 in Morgan county has bangs disease, recent tests show.

Of 423 cattle recently tested for bangs disease in the county, 20 of them had the disease. Several times as many were suspected, according to County Agent Charles Dixon who arranged for the tests. The tests were twice as high a rate as in some previous tests. The reactors were owned by 18 different farmers.

He said many of the reactors were purchased lately from some source other close by. He advised farmers to buy only cows that were tested recently and found negative. He especially urged that farmers with bulls not allow him to serve untested cows. This is the most common means of spreading the disease. Test cattle every year and vaccinate all 4 to 8 months old calves.

BIGGEST CROWD SINCE MRS. FDR SPOKE IN 1936

Mrs. Veep Beams When Barkley Pays Her A Compliment

A crowd described as the largest to assemble for a public speaking in West Liberty since Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt dedicated the WPA-built high school here in 1936, greeted Alben W. Barkley when he brought his campaign for U. S. Senator to Morgan county Tuesday night.

The overflowing courtroom, the courthouse lawn and the streets around the courthouse held a crowd estimated at between 1,200 and 1,500 people. Party leaders from Elliott, Magoffin, Rowan and Knott counties attended, but most of the Veep's hearers were plain Morgan citizens.

Barkley, looking dapper as ever and quite as vigorous, was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Ann Hadley Barkley whom he married four years ago after a gallant courtship that charmed the nation. And Morgan countians plainly showed they were quite taken with her charming personality and good looks. Occasionally she swept the courtroom with her glances, but for the most part she kept her eyes on her famous husband and gave him a wide smile when the Veep referred to their courtship.

Ren F. Nickell, Democrat campaign manager, presided, and a d Commonwealth Attorney W. Major Gardner introduced the former Vice President and Senator.

Lashing out at the Republican national administration, Barkley declared, "The theory of their leaders is that only the rich and the high-born are entitled to rule. I don't believe it's wise to make those at the top richer on the theory that some of it will trickle down to the common people. I believe it's wiser to make all richer and prosperous—than some of it will trickle up. I've always fought for the common man. In the midst of the depression when 15 million were unemployed, I as majority leader in the Senate, fought to restore the faith of our people in government."

Answering his opponent's question of what have the Democrats done for Kentucky in 20 years, the Veep enumerated the many phases of the New Deal program for the common man, and declared pointedly, "Here you have a beautiful stone school building. I helped get it for you. I helped establish the farm credit system for loans to farmers on long terms at low interest. I introduced the bill to provide federal aid for roads. I helped write and pass the REA act; and during the 20 years Cooper inquires what've done, REA has brought electricity to millions of rural homes. I want it brought to all. I helped to establish the Soil Conservation Service which the present administration has crippled by cutting its appropriation. I have voted for every bill to help the farmers. And during that 20 years of Democratic rule, the income of farmers rose from 4 billion to 28 billion dollars. But now in 20 months of Republican rule, the farmers' income has fallen

14,000,000 V-8 FORDS

FORD, THE WORLD'S LARGEST V-8 BUILDER, HAS PRODUCED MORE V-8'S THAN ALL OTHER MANUFACTURERS COMBINED!

It's America's largest selling V-8!

Four out of five V-8's on the road today are V-8 Fords! Ford introduced the V-8 engine to the low-price field more than 22 years ago . . . and is still the only car in its field to offer the smoothness and responsiveness of V-8 power. Add to this Ford's long, low silhouette, its clean, modern styling and its colorful, smartly-trimmed interiors, and it's easy to see why Ford is America's most popular V-8 car.

There's no engine so modern!

Ford's Y-block V-8 has an extra-deep block that extends below the crankshaft for more rigid support, longer engine life. New short-stroke design, turbo-wedge combustion chambers, free-turning overhead valves and exclusive Automatic Power Pilot squeeze the last ounce of power from every drop of gas! With 130-horsepower, Ford's Y-block V-8 is the smoothest, most responsive engine in Ford's field!

There's no V-8 priced so low!

Only Ford offers a V-8 in the low-price field! And no car near its price gives you Ball-Joint Suspension . . . for smooth riding and easier handling. Only Ford in its field, gives you Full-Circle Visibility . . . the most windshield area . . . the most rear window area . . . the most total glass area! And, with many other exclusives such as suspended pedals and Center-Fill Fueling, Ford is America's best buy!

It's not just a V-8 ...it's a Y-block V-8

NO WONDER MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING FORDS THAN EVER BEFORE!

WORTH MORE WHEN YOU BUY IT...
WORTH MORE WHEN YOU SELL IT!

Analysis of used car prices shows that Ford retains a greater proportion of its original cost at resale than any other car in its field. It's further proof of the greater value you get from Ford.

FLORRESS (By Nora Easterling)

September days have flown by. We look and think, why did we sigh

At all the work and rushing round

As beauty has brought a new rebound.

"But where is it?" some look and say.

"This beauty in its bright array?"

Look to the hills and streams below,

Just watch the gentle waters flow,

Unhurried down its peaceful bed.

While cheerful birds sing over head.

Along its side the wild flowers bloom,

This beauty takes away all gloom.

Go up the hills along a trail through wooded patches peacefully sail.

There flowers bloom, the moss and fern,

There we can of this beauty learn.

The trees are dressed in beauty rare,

With green, yellow and red leaves for their hair.

A gentle breeze blows overhead

Which proves our worry and cares are dead.

In our hearts a prayer is given

To let us know God reigns in heaven.

He the Giver of all that is good

In all things let us thank the Lord.

I believe what J. M. Gevedon of Grassy Creek said about the squirrel is true. It seems when the hunter quits or leaves, the squirrel as the forest fire and woods. Last year we seldom saw a squirrel as the forest fire and dry weather gave our game warden a scare and all hunters had to take a vacation. But this season all hunters are on the job and it seems the woods are lively with squirrels. It is very tempting to Mr. Hunter when they get their bag limit for Mr. Squirrel to hop upon a limb and bark. But I believe all hunters in our community are abiding by the game law.

The hunters say thumbs down to reporting their number killed till the season ends. But what reporter could help hearing their number killed if you are around where they discuss hunting.

BARKLEY SPEAKS

20 percent, and we have four million unemployed.

"I helped pass the Full Employment Act to cushion the unemployment after the second world war. When Mr. Eisenhower came in there were 1,700-000 unemployed. Now in 20 months of his administration there are four million not counting the temporarily unemployed people."

Barkley said that in 1948 during consideration of an over-all agriculture bill he was instrumental in getting an amendment adopted that allowed tobacco to remain at 90 percent of parity for price supports.

"In listening to the opening address of my distinguished opponent a few days ago in Lexington, Barkley said, 'I was somewhat surprised to hear that he took sole and complete credit for the adoption of an amendment in the Senate providing for tobacco a 90 percent support level."

"I am sure he must recall that Congressman Virgil Chapman, latter a Senator, and I worked out this amendment which he Mr.
Chapman, asked me to introduce."

"I told him (Mr. Chapman) that the Senate was under Republican control and that I thought it would be good strategy and might help to pass the bill if I asked Senator Cooper to introduce it as a joint amendment on my part and his."

"I took the amendment to him
(Mr. Cooper) and explained its needs and familiarized him as best I could with the situation which justified it. We discussed it for a while and he agreed to introduce it as a joint amendment of Senators Barkley and Cooper."

Referring to the recent visits
of House Leader Joseph Martin, Senator Dirksen and Vice President Nixon to Kentucky to speak for Cooper, the Veep declared,
"We don't need the bigwigs from Washington to tell us in Kentucky how to vote; we're an intelligent people."

Then he challenged Cooper to bring the President's cabinet to Kentucky to speak for him. "I'd like for Cooper," he said, "to bring Secretary of Commerce Weeks to tell us why the cost of living has gone up. And I'd like for him to bring Secretary of Labor Mitchell to explain why there's more unemployment in Kentucky than any other state."

Also, I'd like him to bring Mr.
Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of Defense, to Kentucky to tell us how his theory of 'what's good for General Motors is good for the country' is working. And Secretary of Agriculture Benson, too, so he could tell us why farm prices have fallen 20 percent while the cost of food has gone up."

"You remember 1933, and you know how we dealt with it. In 20 years of Democratic rule we took 15 million unemployed off the streets and gave them work,

individual incomes rose from 40 billion to 240 billion. I was in the forefront of that program.
The modern schools that dot our hillsides and valleys, the many roads that were built and many courthouses are evidences of this program."

"Cooper," he said, "is asking you to send him back so he can cooperate with a Republican administration. There will be no Republican administration after two more years. Four years of the six-year Senate term will be left. How about sending me there to co-operate with a Democratic administration for four years?"

Representative Carl D. Perkins of Hindman, seeking re-election in the Seventh district, appeared here with the Veep and spoke briefly. "No one has done more for the farmer, the little business man, the working man and our schools than Barkley during his 40 years in Congress," Perkins said. Then he predicted Barkley would roll up a bigger majority in the mountain counties of the Seventh district than any other candidate had carried them except when Barkley himself and Roosevelt carried them with huge majorities in 1936.

In introducing the Veep, W.
Major Gardner declared Barkley has played a very important role in steering the destinies of our nation had always with unflinching courage and stamina. "Republican leaders, including their own McCarthy," he declared, "may prate of Communism, for political gain, but in was in the depression years of the 1930's when Communism was really dangerous in this nation, Barkley then helped plan and enact the Roosevelt program that alleviated the economic chaos and discontent on which Communism thrived, and thus helped reduce the grave danger from Communism. In time of economic collapse now threatening it is needful to have Barkley in Washington to help us and protect us from government for the special interests and the rich."

Speaking in an agricultural county, before an audience liberally sprinkled with Democratic women including the attractive Mrs. Barkley, the former Vice President pointed out his early years on the farm. "I was born on a farm and lived on a farm until grown," he said. "My father was a woodsmen and any year he and his boys did not clear at least 12 acres of ground was a total loss."

"My mother spun yarn and knitted our socks. Many a time I held the yarn while she wound it to knit socks. . . . She took us to Sunday school and church."

In Barkley's opening remarks he cited the long friendship he has enjoyed with Morgan countians. He mentioned Atty. Walter Gardner of West Liberty, father of Commonwealth's Attorney W.
Major Gardner, as a friend of many years' standing, and said he was "happy to see him here tonight."

"I have found here in Morgan county and West Liberty a warm genuine friendship and human sympathy. And I am profoundly grateful to you for the honors you have showered upon me all these years."

Barkley then took time out to recognize the presence of the Democratic Women, comprising the women's democratic club of the Seventh district. The women, most of whom sat in a body on Barkley's left, beamed as their veteran statesman paid tribute to them.

Barkley reminded his audience of previous visits to West Liberty.
"Many of you remember when Mrs. Roosevelt came here with me when your new school building was dedicated," he said, referring to his 1936 visit with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt who dedicated the Morgan County high school which had just been completed through Federal Aid and WPA.

Probably not new to his listeners but interesting, nonetheless, was Barkley's explanation of how he came by his nickname. The people were somewhat confused

as to what they should call me after I had served in the Senate and then became Vice President, he offered. One day when the matter was being discussed, his daughter's 12-year-old son suggested he take the "V" and "P"
from the words, "Vice President," and add two "e's" in the middle, making the word, "Veep." Next day Barkley told newsmen about the conversation and they used the story, thus giving him a title that will stick from here on out.

"Mrs. Veep" smiled prettily from her seat in the "witness" chair, laughing outright when her noted husband made reference to her. For her West Liberty visit—it was her first, her husband's umpteenth—she wore a printed costume, small black velvet hat and pearls.

Held in the Morgan county courthouse, the political meeting had much the color of an interesting court trial. At intervals during the Veep's address, there were jovial laughter, enthusiastic applause and "hurrahs." At peak moments while Barkley was emphasizing certain points, total quiet was the rule.

picked up first down in four plays, going to the opponents' 32.
Three more line plays by Mc-Kenzie and Lykins advanced the ball to the 20. Lykins took a lateral from Jerry Franklin and to the 13 for another first down.
Lykins then hit the line for 8 yards. Stacy picked up another yard at center and then Lykins took another lateral from Franklin and went over for a TD on a long end run. Stacy failed at tackle to make the extra point.

After McKenzie's two long touchdown runs in the second and third periods, Mt. Sterling intercepted a Morgan pass on their own 40 and took the offensive.
Clark and Moreland alternated in long end runs and off tackle plays to pick up two first downs in quick succession. But Morgan's line then stiffened and Mt.
Sterling was forced to punt as the quarter ended.

In the final quarter, Franklin passed to Lykins who advanced to Mt. Sterling's 45. Then on the second down, Lykins took a lateral from Franklin and started around end, tipping the ball to Stacy who skampered the remaining 40 yards to the goal for the fourth TD.

In the final minutes of play, Mt. Sterling tried desperately for a score, going to West Liberty's 10 yard marker, but were never able to penetrate closer to the goal.

Clark and Moreland showed best for the visitors and Clark was a powerful threat in line plunges. All Morgan backs had performed well in executing the plays with Lykins showing best in power drives. Coach Stanley used more substitutes than in any other game. Holbrook in the line and Bailey in the backfield gave good accounts of themselves.

Morgan county is idle this week end but will go to Paints-ville next Friday night for their fifth game.

CLUB BANQUET
usually one jump ahead of the Reds, is an interesting one.

The soft-voiced Webers speak Russian, Chinese, French, German, Portuguese and English and are much in demand as public speakers.

The Webers have no children,
but they claim their Pikeville pupils as their own. They love Eastern Kentucky and feel that their traveling days are over.

W. Major Gardner, West Liberty attorney, will be toastmaster at the banquet here next Thursday and the Webers will be introduced by Mrs. Wodrow Barber. Mrs. Ralph Gullett, vice president of the woman's club, is chairman of the program-planning committee.

Tickets to the banquet are on sale at $1.50 each. Anyone wanting a ticket may contact Crystal

Glasses For Needy Persons
The Bookmobile project has been benefited by gifts of $500 to buy eyeglasses for needy persons.
The offer came as a pleasant surprise, when Mrs. Barry Bingham, Louisville, chairman of the project, was notified by the foundation, New Eyes for The Needy, Inc. of Short Hills, N. J. that they were donating money to the project to buy glasses for needy users who have faulty vision.

Adults as well as children are eligible to receive the glasses, and recommendations for the glasses will be accepted only through the bookmobile librarians.

TOTS PICTURES WILL BE TAKEN FREE, PUBLISHED

Tuesday, Oct. 12, is the big day for the picture taking of your youngsters! The Courier is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the Cole Hotel between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. absolutely free of charge. The Woltz Studio of Des Moines, Iowa, nationally known children's photographers who have taken these pictures for us in previous years will again be in charge of the photography. The Courier wants a picture of your child to print in its forthcoming feature "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of the mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing stage pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at the present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years and for the pleasure you will enjoy in seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngster when he or she grows up.

There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents don't even have to be a subscriber to the Courier nor even a reader. You do not have to purchase pictures either, but you may obtain additional prints by arranging direct with Studio representative if you want them. That is entirely up to you!
